GHOSTS--TREAT THEM GENTLY.

DR. JAMES AND THE SUPERNATURAL. A FAMOUS EXPERT ON THE VOGUE FOR CREEPY STORIES.

Dr. James, Prophet of Eton, the author of the following article, which we reprint from the "Evening Standard," is probably the greatest living authority on the literature of ghosts. The publication last month of a collection of 31 of his short stories coincides with that of a number of classic "creepy" tales, among the writers of which he is also represented.

What first interested me in the all-important, since in it there ghosts? This I can tell you quite definitely. In my childhood I chanced to see a toy Punch and Judy set, with figures cut out in cardboard. One of these was The Ghost. It was a tall figure habited in white with an unnaturally long and narrow head, also surrounded with white, and a dismal visage.

Upon this my conceptions of a ghost were based, and for years it permeated my dreams.

Other questions—why I like ghost stories, or what are the best, or why they are the best, or a recipe for writing such things—I have never found it easy to be so positive about. Clearly, however, the public likes them. The recrudescence of ghost stories in recent years is notable: it corresponds, à la mode, with the vogue of the detective tale.

I am speaking of the literary ghost story here. The story that claims to be "veridical" (in the language of the Society for Psy-chical Research) is a very different affair. It will probably be quite brief, and will conform to some one of several familiar types.
This is but reasonable, for, if there be ghosts—as I am quite prepared to believe—the true ghost story need do no more than illustrate their normal habits (if normal is the right word), and may be as mild as milk.

The literary ghost, on the other hand, has to justify his existence by some startling demonstration, or, short of that, must be furnished with a background that will throw him into full relief and make him
the central feature.

Since the things which the ghost can effectively do are very limited in number, ranging about death and madness and the discovery of secrets, the setting seems to Haunted Castles.

It is upon this and upon the first glimmer of the appearance of the supernatural that pains must be lavished. But we need not, we should not, use all the colours in the box. In the infancy of the art we needed the haunted castle on a bettling rock to put us in the right frame; the tendency is not yet extinct, for I have but just read a story with a mysterious mansion on a desolate height in Cornwall and a gentleman practising the worst sort of magic. How often too have ruinous old houses been described or shown to me as fit scenes for stories!

"Can't you imagine some old monk or friar wandering about this long gallery?" No, I can't. I know Harrison Ainsworth could:
"The Lancashire Witches" teems with Cistercians and what he calls votaries in mouldering vestments, who glide about passages to very little purpose. But these fail to impress. Not that I have not a soft corner in my heart for "The Lancashire Witches," which—ridiculous as much of it is—has distinct merits as a story.

It cannot be said too often that the more remote in time the ghost is the harder it is to make him effective, always supposing him to be the ghost of a dead person.

Elementals and such-like do not come under this rule.
Roughly speaking, the ghost should be a contemporary of the seer. Such was the elder Hamlet and such Jacob Marley. The latter I cite with confidence and in despite of critics, for whatever may be urged against some parts of "The

Christmas Carol," it is, I hold, undeniably that the introduction, the advent, of Jacob Marley is tremendously effective.

And be it observed that the setting in both these classic examples is contemporary and even ordinary. The ramparts of the Kronborg and the chambers of Ebenezer Scrooge were, to those who frequented them, features of every-day life.

But there are exceptions to every rule. An ancient haunting can be made terrible and can be invested with actuality, but it will tax your best endeavours to forge the links between past and present in a satisfying way. And in any case there must be ordinary level-headed modern persons—Horatio—on the scene, much as the detective needs his Watson or his Hastings to play the part of the lay observer.

Setting or environment, then, is to me a principal point, and the more readily appreciable the setting is to the ordinary reader the better. The other essential is that our ghost should make himself felt by gradual stirrings diffusing an atmosphere of uneasiness before the final flash or stab of horror.

Must there be horror? you ask. I think so. There are but two really good ghost stories I know in the language wherein the elements of beauty and pity dominate terror. They are Lanoe Falconer's "Cecilia de Noel" and Mrs. Oliphant's "The Open Door." In both these are moments of horror; but in both we end by saying with Hamlet: "Alas, poor ghost!" Perhaps my limit of two stories is overstrict; but that these two are by very much the best of their kind I do not doubt.

On the whole, then, I say you must have horror and also malice. There is a series of books I have read, I think American in origin, called "Not at Night" (and with other like titles), which sin glaringly against this law. They have no other aim than that of Mr. Wardle's Fat Boy.

Of course, all writers of ghost stories do desire to make their readers' flesh creep; but these are shameless in their attempts. They are unbelievably crude and sudden, and they wallow in corruption. And if there is a theme that ought to be kept out of the ghost story, it is that of the chancel house. That and sex, wherein I do not say that these "Not at Night" books deal, but certainly other recent writers do, and in so doing spoil the whole business.

Best Stories.

To return from the faults of ghost stories to their excellences. Who, do I think, has best realised their possibilities? I have no hesitation in saying that it is Joseph Sheridan Le Fanu. In the volume called "In a Glass Darkly" are four stories of paramount excellence, "Green Tea," "The Familiar," "Mr. Justice Harbottle," and "Carmilla." All of these conform to my requirements: the settings are quite different, but all seen by the writer; the approaches of the supernatural nicely graduated; the climax adequate. Le Fanu was a scholar and a poet, and these tales show him as such. It is true that he died as long ago as 1873, but there is wonderfully little that is obsolete in his manner.

Of living writers I have some hesitation in speaking but on any list that I was forced to compile the names of E. F. Benson, Blackwood, Burrage, De la Mare and Wakefield would find a place.

But, although the subject has its fascinations, I see no use in being pontifical about it. These stories are meant to please and amuse us. If they do so, well; but, if not, let us relegate them to the top shelf and say no more about it.

WHERE TO ADVERTISE!

LONDON EXPERT ON REFERENCE AND YEAR BOOKS.

VALUE FOR THE MONEY.

An interesting series of articles, "Where to Advertise," is appearing in that lively trade publication, World's Press News, which is produced every week in London. In discussing Year and Reference books the writer gives as his opinion that:

Advertisers in reference books get value for money and there is no better medium for cumulative effect.

The author proceeds:—Year books, and other reference books issued annually, while being listed in most Press directories as periodicals, occupy such a very specialised position that they deserve some more particular designation. Most periodicals, particularly those serving the different trades and industries, are, indeed, filed away for reference; but even these files are used with comparative rarity. A year and reference book, on the other hand, is literally a rode mecum; it must always be kept on a shelf in the office or on the desk where it can be referred to at a moment's notice; for almost every day brings the necessity for referring to the appropriate volume on more than one occasion.

The whole aim of a reference book is to present within as small a compass as possible the largest number of facts relating to the sphere which it covers; and modern statistical and recording activity has reached such a pitch that most year books are marvels of encyclopaedic comprehensiveness carefully classified for the purpose of easy reference.

Even this comprehensiveness would not be of great value unless the year book were such as to withstand the greatest possible amount of handling. A year book which falls to pieces after a comparatively short period of constant use is not only useless, but irritating; the more comprehensive the more irritating, for when a classified array of facts becomes muddled, exasperation is the only feeling aroused by its constant use. No one is likely to be attracted by advertisements in a year book in which the pages have come out of place and which takes considerable trouble to use.

Use of the Index.

The modern reference book is, however, an extremely well bound volume; most of them, in fact, will withstand even more than a year's use. Added to this strength of binding is the increasing development of indices; from the mere index at the end book publishers advanced first to varicoloured edges to mark the different sections, to thumb indices strengthened with celluloid or similar material.

The number of year books in Britain is positively amazing; every trade, every society, every movement finds its desirable nowadays to issue its own year book; and in addition there are the general reference books, pre-eminent amongst which are Kelly's Directories and Who's Who, which are indispensable to most business men in addition to the year book of their particular trade.

Always Being Used.

This indispensability constitutes one of the chief appeals of the year book to advertisers. A man may manage without his trade paper or, even if he takes it, may, under the pressure of business, overlook several issues, but he cannot manage without his year book. Most year books contain in addition to the basic facts of the industry concerned directories of the leading firms in the industry or profession; and the advertisements themselves supplement this directory, for firms which desire their name to stand out amongst the rest find it essential to add to its appearance in the directory a page or so in the advertisement section for special emphasis. Indeed, to the discrimination

LESSON SERMON.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, HONG KONG.

"Soul and Body" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 24.

The Golden Text was: "If ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live." (Romans 8: 13.)

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Rejoice evermore. Pray without ceasing. Prove all things; hold fast that which is good. And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be presented blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ." (1 Thess. 5: 16, 17, 21, 23.)

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "A demonstration of the facts of Soul in Jesus' way resolves the dark visions of material sense into harmony and immortality. Man's privilege at this supreme moment is to prove the words of our Master. 'If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death.' To divest thought of false trusts and material evidences in order that the spiritual facts of being may appear,—this is the great attainment by means of which we shall sweep away the false and give place to the true. Thus we may establish in truth the temple, or body, 'whose builder and maker is God.'" (p. 428.)

ing user of a year book the advertisement sections are as valuable as the editorial, for they constitute a selected list of firms, goods and services within the trade covered.

An increasingly popular feature of the modern reference book is the special article on the trend, and developments of the year, and on special phases of the industry concerned. A year book which contains these is of interest for more than the year for which it is dated and is often kept and referred to for several years afterwards. There is, therefore, virtually no limit to the possible selling value of an advertisement in a modern year book; it is not thrown away like a newspaper or filed away on dusty shelves like a periodical, but is used as a permanent volume of reference.

Not for One Year Only.

There are, of course, people who sell their year books the moment new ones are published; and one has only to glance into the second-hand booksellers' shop to see what an enormous trade is done in this line. There is a considerable demand for second-hand year books a year or so out of date; thus the advertisement value of the pages is not restricted even to the first buyers, is to the original circulation. Indeed, the actual certified sales figures of a year book are comparatively little to judge by; in many cases at least 50 per cent. should be added to these in computing the value of a reference book as an advertisement medium.

Advertising in trade and industrial year books is naturally confined mainly to technical and specialist advertising addressed to the industry concerned; but there are many year books of great popular appeal in which general advertisers may find an excellent medium. Whitaker's, for instance, has become almost a household word, and the Daily Mail Year Book follows closely behind. These year books form a staple and indispensable item upon thousands of bookshelves among both the well-to-do and the moderately well-off middle-classes. Every public library carries copies of these general and of many specialised year-books and reference to these is constantly being made by users of the library.

THE KING'S HEALTH DRUNK IN TEA.

PREMIER AT "PLANTATION"
LUNCH IN LONDON.

Seven hundred people, headed by the Prime Minister, who attended a luncheon at the Connaught Rooms, W.C., drank the King's health in tea.

The luncheon celebrated the opening by the English and Scottish Co-operative Wholesale Society of an extension of their warehouse in Leman-street, E. It was found necessary, when the idea of drinking the toast of the King in tea was first suggested, to consult the Lord Chamberlain, who readily gave his permission.

The guests, who were from all parts of the country, sat down in a room resembling a tea plantation.
More than a hundred waiters were dressed as coolies and had their faces stained.

It was pointed out that the average man and woman in this country drink nearly eight times as much tea as their great-grandparents.
On an average six cups a day are consumed by every inhabitant of the kingdom.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald was accompanied by Miss Isabel Mac-Donald and Mr. A. V. Alexander, the First Lord of the Admiralty.
He paid a tribute to the enterprise of a society which had equipped itself with tea warehouses that were the finest of their kind in the world.

Signal honour was paid W. S.
Van Dyke, director of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's jungle adventure drama, "Trader Horn," coming simultaneously to the Queen's, Star and World Theatres on Thursday, when he returned from 25,000 mile trek on which the picture was made.

He was guest of honour of the Adventurers' Club, composed of famous explorers and adventurers, and presented with a medal in view of his achievements in taking the first and only sound recording apparatus into the densest jungles of Africa.

Harry Carey, Duncan Renaldo and Edwin Booth play principal roles in the huge production.

CENTRAL THEATRE.

"THE MARRIAGE PLAYGROUND."

Water-proof bathing beauties will be seen and heard in Para-mount's all-talking production
"The Marriage Playground" which comes to the Central Theatre today.

Among the large number of extras used to create the typical Lido throngs, such as are found at this exclusive European sea-side resort, are thirty girls, who, like the one in the poem, were told to "hang your clothes on a hick'ry limb, but don't go near the water."

It was a rigid test of discipline for the girls the day the scene was "shot" for they had to spend the entire day on a warm California beach, but were not permitted to go near the water. Within a few feet of the tempting waves, they had to recline in modish beach costumes and satisfy themselves as best they could by merely looking at the waves.

The same test, however, was applied to the cast headed by Mary Brian and Fredric March.
All their scenes were made on the dry sands. To balance the number of "water-proof" players was an equal number of actors who were required to spend the entire day playing in and about the water.

The play is based on the Edith Wharton best-selling novel, "The Children." It was directed by Lothar Mendes, the director of "Illusion" and "Dangerous Curves."

"DUCKING" THREAT TO GIRL CAMPERS.

VILLAGERS DETERMINED TO STOP UNSEEMLY BEHAVIOUR.

Cranham, a village nestling at the foot of the Cotswolds a few miles out of Gloucester, has decided to take drastic action against ill-behaved campers during the holiday season.

Following on what they call "disgraceful behaviour" during the last two summers, the villagers have met and decided to give a ducking in the village brook to Ultra-modern girl campers who wear scanty bathing costumes.

Campers who hold gramophone and dancing parties in the early hours.

There were violent scenes between the villagers and campers last summer. Indignant because of what they considered unseemly behaviour by the holiday-makers, the local people marched in a body to a camp on the hillside and ordered the visitors to leave. The campers refused—and the next night their tent collapsed on top of them.
Somebody had cut the guy-ropes.
"We shall be pleased to see campers of the right sort," said a villager, "but we are not going to stand any nonsense."

JUDGE AND HYDE PARK.

POLICE URGED TO RE-DOUBLE THEIR VIGILANCE.

"DISCREDITABLE PROSECUTOR'S" NAME SUPPRESSED.

Sir Ernest Wild, K.C., the Recorder at the Old Bailey, passed sentence of 15 months' imprisonment on Cecil Evans, 19, a drummer in the Welsh Guards, who pleaded guilty to uttering a letter demanding £15 with innuences from a clerk referred to as "Mr. A.," whom he met in Hyde Park. "I commend the police to redouble their vigilance in order to make the park possible for decent citizens after nightfall," Sir Ernest said.

Mr. Howard (prosecuting) said that Evans met "Mr. A." in 1928, and since then they had met frequently in the park. Inspector Sharpe told Sir Ernest: "My experience is that there is an atmosphere of this kind permeating a section of the Guards regiments."

"Are the police doing all they can to prevent people behaving in this way?" the Recorder asked. "I can assure your lordship of that," was the reply.

"Officers Cannot be Nursemaids."

This young man coming into the regiment at the age of 15 would be plunged into the atmosphere you have mentioned?—Yes, and he might be contaminated.

Lieut. Harding, of the Welsh Guards, was asked by the Recorder how the men behaved in the park.

"There are the police," said Lieut. Harding.

The Recorder.—Of course, officers cannot act as nursemaids. If such things exist it is unknown to the regiment?—Yes.

And if it was brought to the notice of the regiment it would be dealt with drastically?—Yes.

You do not want Evans back in the Army?—I was told that if he was not sent to prison he would be taken back.

Evans, in evidence, said that "Mr. A." told him he was a scout master and interested in sports, and asked him if he would like to take a class as boxing instructor.

He wrote the letter because he wanted money to get out of the Army and help his widowed mother.

"Blackguardly Conduct."

Evans mentioned two other Guardsmen as having been in the Park. At the request of the Recorder he wrote their names on a piece of paper. This, the Recorder said, would be handed to the Guards' officer for investigation.

"Mr. A." who was told that he need not answer any questions tending to incriminate himself, said that Evans, in uniform, first followed him in the Park.

The Recorder said that it was difficult to speak in restrained language about the black-guardly conduct revealed by the case.

"I am not in a position to make any general observations," he continued, "because I do not know who is speaking the truth. If it be true that some members of the Guards, wearing his Majesty's uniform, have degraded themselves in a Royal park, it is an appalling state of things in the twentieth century."

"The only creditable thing to be said about this discreditable prosecutor is that he had the courage to go to the police. For that reason alone his name will be suppressed."

"You are of an age when it is possible to send you to Borstal, but I am not going to contaminate Borstal with a young fellow like you."

H.M.S. STERLING

"MYSTERY."

SENT ON 'PIRACY' PATROL.
SOMME STANDING BY AT HOIHOW.

The "mystery" concerning the departure of H.M.S. Sterling from here on Friday night has been cleared up, the explanation being that the destroyer went out to relieve the Somme on piracy patrol in Bins Bay. The latter left for Hoihow suddenly upon receipt of news of heavy fighting in that port between Canton and Nanking factions. It is understood that the small British community were evacuated by the B. & S. King Yuan on Friday but were disembarked the following when hostilities ceased.

Upon information being received here to the effect that fighting had broken out at Hoihow, H.M.S. Somme was immediately despatched to that port, arriving there at 10 a.m. on Saturday. As far as it is known, there is a very small foreign community resident in Hoihow and all persons are reported to be safe. The Somme has, however, been ordered to "stand by" until further notice.

Fighting at Hoihow.

Hostilities began about four days ago between the Po On Dei troops and the Cantonese forces.

The former, whose headquarters are at Hainan, were organised by Chan Ming Shu, and are said to be in favour of President Chiang Kai Shek. Only one regiment was stationed at Hoihow, when the trouble broke out.

Recently the Po On Dei "revolted" from the Leftist cause, and a contingent of Cantonese troops was despatched to disarm them, and to reorganise completely the Po On Dei forces, if possible, without bloodshed. It now seems necessary that a gunboat will have to be despatched from Canton for this purpose.

For each additional sum of $50,000 (previously $10,000) subscribed to the Fund another scholar may be nominated by the subscriber on the same conditions provided that the number of scholars nominated as aforesaid by any one subscriber shall not exceed four in number at any one time.

Any city, town, or village in or out of China may exercise the like privileges of nominating free scholars, but scholars can only be nominated by the representatives of the subscribers properly accredited to the satisfaction of the Council.

An individual subscriber of a sum of $50,000 or more shall be entitled to become a life member of the Council of the University, and to have a framed portrait or bust of himself erected in the Hall of the University under such conditions as the Council may determine.

IN BANKRUPTCY.

OBJECTION RAISED TO A PETITION.

ASSETS OF TWO MISSING DEBTORS.

A creditor's petition against Li Wai Tong and Li Wai Lam, described as father and son, who had been in business as brokers, was opposed by the Official Receiver, Mr. E. L. Agassiz at the Bankruptcy Court on Saturday before the Chief Justice (Sir Joseph Kemp).

The petitioner, Lo Kai Hong, alleged that debtors had assets to the value of $7,300, one of these being said to be a holding of $1,800 in a Chinese company and another being the balance of money owing on a contract with the Po Hing Theatre. Petitioners claim amounted to $1,700.

After examination by Mr. F. X. D'Almeida, the petitioner was cross-examined by the Official Receiver. Petitioner said that in his opinion the debtors were actually partners and they divided the profits between them. The asset of $1,800, he had been informed, was a joint one. Witness admitted that he had received much of his information about the debtors from his brother-in-law and other people. He had not seen the debtors since a judgment was delivered against them in connection with the Po Hing Theatre contract.

Grounds for Opposition.

The Official Receiver said he was opposing the petition and the granting of a receiving order on two grounds. In the first there was no proof of any joint assets, nor was he satisfied that the debtors were partners, or joint traders. Further, the evidence as to assets was absolutely worthless.

The asset for $1,800 alone could be admitted, but information in his possession showed that it was an asset of Li Wai-tong personally. The Po Hing Theatre amount mentioned was useless, as Li Wai-tong had been subject to an action, which proved that in fact he owed money to the alleged debtor in the affidavit. Judgment had been given against him in the case, with costs.

His Lordship asked if there was any evidence to show that the $1,800 asset was actually one of Li Wai-tong personally. The Official Receiver replied that an official of the company in question could be called to give evidence, if required. He asked for the petition to be dismissed.

After discussion on the point, his Lordship made a receiving order against Li Wai Tong, amending the petition by striking out the name of the other debtors.

"Extraordinary Application."

The Official Receiver opposed what he called an "extraordinary application," which was made by Mr. E. S. C. Brooks on behalf of Chung Chee-ke.

Mr. Brooks applied for the bankruptcy petition to be withdrawn, explaining that creditors had considered the matter and were willing to let debtors try and rehabilitate himself, so much so that they were prepared to trust him with further contracts.

The Official Receiver said that such a procedure would violate the principle of the law of payment. He stated that debtor filed his petition on June 14 as a protection against a Summary Court judgment. It was shown that 35 creditors, who were treated as one, had agreed to accept 10 per cent in cash and 20 per cent by notes of acknowledgment to be paid by instalments within four years. Another ten had agreed to postpone their claims.

Application Dismissed.

The application, he said, was a most improper one and he asked that the application be dismissed and adjudication granted.

Mr. Brooks remarked that the judgment against debtor did not seem to have any application, because, if the petition was withdrawn could be enforced against him.

His Lordship said he thought it was a case in which leave for the application should not be given. The proposed arrangement violated

BOXING EVE WINS FROM SITTING BULL.

MR. CHARLES RIDES CLEVER RACE ON WINNER: HEAVILY BACKED FAVOURITE LOSES BY HALF A LENGTH.

APOLLO WINS AGGREGATE STAKES EASILY.

[By "MORNING DEW"]

In ten races on Saturday, favourites only turned up on two occasions. On the first, Apollo came home an easy winner in the Aggregate Stakes to pay his supporters a paltry ten-cents profit for every $5 invested. On the second occasion Mike returned less than $8 when he won the Juno Handicap.

By virtue of his victory, Apollo is definitely the winner of the Aggregate Stakes, as he has put himself beyond the reach of all the other entrants. The pony is certainly an outstanding one and fully deserves to win the "Aggregate," which is the main feature of the extra season.

The best bit of riding during the day was seen in the first division of the Juno Handicap, when Boxing Eve accounted for a heavy favourite in Sitting Bull by half a length with Wisdom Stag, another well-fancied pony, running a poor third. Mr. Charles rode the winner here and was exhausted by his great effort. He did not ride again during Saturday.

Mr. A. W. da Roza returned the biggest dividend of the day when he steered Mongolian Stag first past the post in front of a field of six in the third division of the Juno Handicap.

MR. FROST RIDES FOUR WINNERS.

Once again Mr. Leo Frost was the most successful jockey, riding four winners. His mount was made a heavy favourite for the first race, but Wonderful Stag failed even to get a place. Setting a hot pace early on, Little Beaver took a fairly long lead over the first half mile, followed closely by Gold Key, with Fortune Bay taking up the rear. Little Beaver and Gold Key led into the straight with Fortune Bay hotly in pursuit. Gold Key put up a stout content until a few yards from home when Little Beaver and Fortune Bay got the better of him. The two ponies dead-heated for first place. Needless to add, the complete failure of the favourite led to very handsome dividends all round.

Another Outsider.

In the second race, Sanction and Paul Fry were all the rage, but they could do no better than run second and third respectively to The Plover, ridden by Mr. Frost, which won by many lengths. Wise Stag was fairly well fancied and the pony made a good show over the first half mile, in spite of a wretched start. After the Rock, however, it petered out of the race.

Frost's Second Win.

Mr. Frost registered his second win of the day on The Quail to pay more than 6-1. The favourite here was Tunney, ridden by Mr. G. U. da Roza, but he could not do better than run into third position. The Quail took the lead on entering the straight and won by a short head from Tay, which came up with a belated rush. The latter was ridden by Mr. A. W. da Roza, who did quite well during the day, getting one more second and a win later in the afternoon.

Apollo's Exercise Canter.

The mile and a quarter of the Aggregate Stakes proved to be an exercise canter for Apollo as he finished practically a furlong in front of The Tiger which took second place. Donnellaba was third.

Mr. Soares in Form.

Mr. Soares showed that he was in riding form when he won the second division of the Sub-Griffins Summer Handicap in great style from Agate which dead-heated with Movanager for second place. Taking the pony out in the village, Mr. Soares had no difficulty in staying in front. Mr. A. W. da Roza rode Movanager very hard in the last half of the run in to dead-heat with Agate for second place.

Good Judgment.

Mr. Charles was responsible for Boxing Eve winning the first division of the Juno Handicap from Sitting Bull and Wisdom Stag. Riding with the rest of the field over the first quarter, Mr. Charles registered 33 seconds. He then took Boxing Eve to the front where the pony cut out a mile in 2 minutes 1.2 seconds. This proved a bit too much for Sitting Bull although there was no want of trying on the part of his jockey, Mr. Heard, to draw level with Boxing Eve. Mr. Charles was "winded" after the race, but pluckily remained on the saddle until after he had been led through the members' enclosure to the weighing compound.

Mike Wins.

Mr. Frost's fourth victory of the day came when he won with Mike in a mile and a quarter race from City Hall. The latter, ridden by Mr. Proulx, tried runaway tactics, but found that Mr. Frost on Mike was well up all the way. Mr. Frost took the lead from the Rock onwards and was never headed again. City Hall took second place and Peppercorn was a poor third.

A Dark Horse.

In spite of the fact that Moon Star had never run into a place at previous outings, he was fairly heavily backed to win the Victoria Park Stakes for non-winning Australian ponies. He won by three lengths. The lightly-weighted Caulfield took second place, Mr. Heard riding the favourite; Fritz ran him to a neck. Mr. Frost on Thunderclap was unplaced although the pony was early taken out to the van.

Novice Race.

Marquis Hall, ridden by Mr. Collman, was slightly more in demand than Piccalilli, ridden by Mr. Keith Murray in the last race of the day. Piccalilli was well-handled to win by two lengths from Crown Prince, which came up with a great big rush in the straight. This is the second occasion that Mr. Noronha has faced the starter and on each occasion he has been a good second. He is due for a win pretty soon. Marquis Hall filled third place.

That Big Dividend.

Coming now to the big dividend paid by Mongolian Stag, I think a special tribute ought to be paid to Mr. A. W. da Roza's good riding in that race. Mr. Roza timed his mount beautifully and made up the huge gap between One Third and Mongolian Stag long before the winning post was reached. Once in front he took no chances and kept pushing his mount until the winning post flashed past. Mr. Roza has obviously made great improvement in his riding and will bear watching at to-day's meeting.

A SAD HANOI TRAGEDY.

YOUNG FRENCH LADY BURNED TO DEATH.

[BY OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

HANOI, May 20.

A broken bottle of Eau de Cologne, a rickshaw accident, and the foolishness of an Annamite whose curiosity overcame his sense of danger, resulted in the death here of a popular young French lady.

The exact details of the tragedy are unknown, but it is stated that the young lady was on her way home one evening from teaching at a school, when the rickshaw in which she was riding collided with a bicycle and was overturned.

The young lady was carrying a bottle of Eau de Cologne at the time, and on being thrown from the rickshaw she fell heavily breaking the bottle, the contents of which soaked the lower part of her dress and silk stockings.

As she lay stunned through the fall, the rickshaw coolie righted his vehicle, and, seeing the unconscious form of its former occupant lying in the roadway he chose the least complicated means of avoiding trouble and took to his heels.

Soon an unhelpful crowd gathered around the young woman, one of whom wishing to obtain a better view, struck a match near her, and in a moment the girl was in a mass of flame.

The half stunned girl fought madly to put out the leaping flames which greedily devoured the perfumed soaked summer dress. Sensing trouble the crowd soon dispersed leaving the victim screaming for help.

When assistance came she had nearly extinguished the flames with her bare arms.

She was taken to hospital, where she was found to be very badly injured all over her limbs, and after a week of intense suffering she succumbed.

The funeral was attended by a large number of sympathisers, the deceased young lady having been a very popular figure in Hanoi society.

DOCKYARD RECREATION

PRESENTATIONS TO DEPARTING MEMBERS.

A pleasing function took place at the Dockyard Recreation Club on Friday evening when Mr. C. E. Westcott and Mr. J. F. E. Richards who left for Home on Saturday, were recipients of a silver roa bowl and a gold watch respectively as tokens of esteem from friends in the Dockyard.

During the course of the evening, opportunity was taken to present Mr. W. Bickford with a clock and two valuable reference books "in recognition of seven years' service as chairman of the local Committee" by members of the District Whitley Council.

Mr. Westcott was also presented with a standard lamp for his services in connection with the visit of the Government Commission (Admiralty) to enquire into the cost of living in Hong Kong.

Messrs Westcott, Bickford, and Richards suitably responded.

During the course of the evening a musical programme was rendered, Messrs. Longyear, Bailey, Crabbe and Turner contributing towards it.

The proceedings closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and the National Anthem.

HONG KONG, MAY 25, 1931.

MR. EUGENE CHEN AND "DICTATORSHIP."

It is an accepted axiom of modern statecraft that every country must settle its own form of government. In China the regime over which Marshal CHIANG KAI SHEK presides has been recognised by the nations of the world, and through that government negotiations have been conducted. The unfortunate thing is that the Nationalist Government at Nanking is no longer in a position to act as the effective authority and spokesman of China. Its rule has never been more than nominal over a large portion of the country, but it has had, since Manchuria's acceptance of Nanking's overlordship, a fair degree of control over that part of China with which the rest of the world comes into contact.

At the present moment Capton is in revolt and Mr. EUGENE CHEN, in the interview courteously accorded to representatives of the Hong Kong Press, declares that a national movement is on foot to eliminate CHIANG KAI SHEK, and to destroy the fabric of dictatorship which the President has erected.

The movement may or may not succeed; but whatever happens it emphasises once again the tragedy of modern China. There are able and vigorous rulers in plenty, but they will obey no authority but their own. Will this ever be altered? The Kuomintang overthrew the "war lords," but has there been peace since then?

All successful governments are in the nature of despotisms. The American President has dictatorial powers. He can, as executive head of the government, over-ride the legislature. He is chief of the Army and Navy and Foreign Office. In England the Prime Minister selects his own colleagues and (except in the instances of the two Labour Administrations) has the House of Commons in his pocket. Government is thus concentrated in he gets, or else he resigns. With an educated and law-abiding population there are, in practice, checks upon power of this kind. There are independent law courts, a legislature whose opinion cannot be flouted, and popular opinion expressed through newspapers and public associations. But less highly organised nations prosper according to the strength or weakness of the ruler, and the extent to which he can over-ride opposition. England prospered under the high-handed Tudors; France under RICHIEUX was absolute; Russia under PETER THE GREAT and the outstanding ROMANOFFS, and China under the great Mongol and early Manchu emperors.

Mr. CHEN denounces CHIANG KAI SHEK's dictatorship. But if CHIANG goes who will replace him? Will a Kuomintang committee hold the war lords in check? Will bandits and Communists disarm forth? Let us look at the present condition: CUNO FAR FUI, the extremist soldier; PEI CHUNG HSI and LI TUNG JEN, the "reactionary militarists"; CHEN THAI TONG, a Cantonese and a somewhat unknown quantity politically; FENG and YEN in the North, and the three "leftist" politicians, EUGENE CHEN, SUN FO and WANG CHING WEI. Does anyone think that such a collection of men of opposing ideals can govern China? They are in China, but they have all fought with and against each other, again and again, in CHIANG's many civil wars. Will they, one and all, submit to a Central Government, meekly disbanding their troops, suppressing the opium trade, and paying the taxes they have collected into the National Treasury?

Dr. SUN YAT SEN envisaged a period of political tutelage, after unification had been achieved. But the whole work of unification is being undone. Is there any man that China will obey? If CHIANG wins this time, no doubt his hand will come down heavily. He is excommunicated by his enemies. So also were CROMWELL and LINCOLN, who succeeded, and the Stuart King of England who failed in similar efforts to impose their will. All of them to some extent deserved execution. What ruler does not in China's present condition ask for "democratic" government, by "the elected representatives of the moon. Only three possibilities lie before China, dictatorship, a continuance of the old struggle between self-appointed leaders, or, as a last alternative, a split-up into a number of small nations. It is a pity that all the obvious advantages of unity should be sacrificed for it is doubtful if Mr. EUGENE CHEN, and his friends can find a man who is able both to rule China and to adhere to their interpretation of the constitution of the Kuomintang. Great rulers are ruthless and unscrupulous, like the early CARSARS and NAPOLEON. Those who have not those qualities are set aside in a turbulent and anarchic period, until the populace is so exhausted that it is willing to forego "liberty," and to accept strong, individual rule.

DANZIG AND ITS RIVAL.

The Free City of Danzig is a perpetual source of trouble to Europe, and interesting light on the most recent phases of the problem has been thrown by the report on Poland's obligation to use that of three League of Nations jurists on Poland's obligation to use that port. Under the Peace Treaty Poland was provided with access to the sea by the Corridor, a narrow strip of Polish territory dividing East and West Prussia. She was also given the use, though not the possession, of the port of Danzig, which stands at the head of the Corridor. She was given the use of the port because given the use of it, because Danzig is a completely German town. Poland, however, for political reasons, wants to have a port of her own, and to secure one she has turned the fishing village of Gdynia into a first-rate port at a totally uneconomic expenditure. Subsidised and favoured by Poland, Gdynia has become a serious rival to the Free City of Danzig, and Danzig has not naturally protested. It is this rivalry which has been the subject of the experts' deliberations. It is plainly impossible to prevent Poland building a port on her own territory, but it is arguable that she can be prevented from diverting traffic from Danzig. This at least is the opinion of the majority of the experts, who hold that there is a prior obligation on Poland to make "full" use of Danzig. This decision is a victory for Danzig, but it may not turn out to be a very useful one. Who is to decide what is full use and what the capacity of the port? In times of depression would Gdynia have to lose all its trade before Danzig forfeited any? The moral of this difficulty, however, is plain. If Poland does not show her need of Danzig by using it—and the building of Gdynia is a sign that she is determined to use it as little as possible—then there is no further justification for the artificial separation of Danzig from the German State in the interests of Polish commerce.

The Rival Blues.

A committee of Cambridge dons have published a report to the effect that the examinations are too feeble and that University men should be obliged to attend at least eight lectures a week. "What will be the reaction upon Oxford of these astounding propensities of her sister?" asks a Home paper. Actually the best tutors at Oxford regard lectures as "spoon feeding."

An Imperial Family.

One census return in England conveyed the following information. The household consists of six persons. The head of the household is a man. He was born in India, and his wife at Bangalore, in India, and his wife at Kobe, in Japan. The eldest daughter was born at Hong Kong, the second at Quetta in Baluchistan, and the third at Kuala Lumpur in the Federated Malay States. The son, by way of an anticlimax, was born at Hampstead. It is a variegated record. But how those elder sisters will grow over their younger brother when he is old enough to realise how uninspired he was in his choice of a birthplace.

French Appeal to America.

The most remarkable piece of propaganda attempted on behalf of the French Colonial Exhibition was a wireless invitation to visit it broadcast from Paris throughout Canada and the United States. The Salle Gaveau at Paris was linked by wireless with the headquarters of the Columbia broadcasting system in New York, which relayed a programme to all parts of the North American continent. After selections by the Band of the Garde Republicaine, addresses were delivered by Marshal Lyautey, M. Paul Reynaud, Minister of the Colonies, and Mr. Charles H. Burke, Acting American Commissioner-General. Marshal Lyautey's speech, which was repeated in English, was an invitation to citizens of the New World to come over and see for themselves what the Old World had accomplished in the name of civilisation. It is hoped that this wireless effort, which lasted for half an hour, will bring thousands of visitors across the Atlantic.

Slang.

"I have been examining with a good deal of interest Mr. Godfrey Irwin's glossary of American Tramp and Underworld Slang," says a correspondent to a Home paper. "What chiefly strikes me in it is the number of words, apparently used currently by the American hobnob today, which were equally familiar in the English underworld of the eighteenth century and earlier."

Leading Lady Injured.

While Miss Winifred Goodchild, the leading lady in the Alexandra Palace Amateur Operatic Society, was preparing for a rehearsal of "High Jinks" her dress caught fire from a gas radiator, and she was burned about the arms and legs. After medical attention she declined to go to hospital and was taken to her home at Caxton-Pond, Wood Green. Most of her clothing, including her hat, was burned. A member of cast said that Miss Goodchild had the presence of mind to wriggle out of her dress and she saved herself from more serious injuries.

Fingerprints.

A jury at York Assizes rejected fingerprint evidence put forward by the police and discharged the prisoner involved. A detective told the judge that of a million sets of fingerprints in his registry no two were the same. There were 10 points of similarity—the requirement as connecting evidence. But Mr. Justice Hawke refused to accept as evidence the detective's opinion that because two sets of fingerprints resembled one another on the required number of points the prints must be those of the same man. "It is no use coming here and telling juries that fingerprints are those of particular people unless you can say how you came to that conclusion," said the judge. "How do you know that if I give you mine they will not be the same as one of those in your registry?"

Looking Back 25 Years.

On Monday afternoon as a European constable was walking along his beat at Temple Street, Yau-mat, he observed a woman falling from the second or third floor of a building. She landed on her feet and then fell backwards. The constable, on approaching her discovered that she was a girl of about sixteen years of age, and that she had been dead for some hours. He made inquiries about the girl from the occupants of the second and third floors, but nobody claimed the body. The constable, therefore, came to the conclusion that the body had been dumped, in order that the Sanitary authorities might not have access to the floors in question, and caused it to be removed to the mortuary. There it was found on examination that the cause of death was bubonic plague.—Hong Kong Daily Press, May 25, 1906.

Looking Back 50 Years.

The accounts of the condition of the Emperor Kwang-Su and of the Western Empress vary considerably, but there seems no doubt that at last accounts from Peking both were in a critical state. The poor little boy who for the past six years has borne the burden of the dignities attaching to the position of the "Son of Heaven" has been attacked by small-pox, to which repulsive disease his youthful predecessor Tung Chih succumbed in 1876. Should the two Imperial personages, whose lives are said to hang by a very slender thread, not long survive, an opportunity may occur of getting rid of Manchu supremacy. Whether or not there is a Chinese of high rank with sufficient courage to take the steps necessary for such a purpose is, however, very doubtful. The Chinese have submitted so long to Manchu rule, and entertained so ingrained a respect for constituted authority, that they might not care to upset the present régime. The horrors of civil war have been made so manifest by the Taiping Rebellion that the Chinese have a lively dread of a repetition of it.—Hong Kong Daily Press, May 24, 1931.

Special Interview With Mr. Eugene Chen.

UNQUALIFIED DENUNCIATION OF CHIANG KAI SHEK.

NO QUESTION OF ARRANGING PEACE BETWEEN NANKING AND CANTON.

CHIANG ACCUSED OF TREATING CHINA AS HIS PERSONAL POSSESSION.

Mr. Eugene Chen, one of the outstanding figures in China today, arrived in the Colony yesterday by the s.s. Asama Maru from Shanghai. He proceeded by train to Canton yesterday on what he described in an interview, courteously accorded to a representative of the Daily Press, as the furtherance of a movement for the elimination of Marshal Chiang Kai Shek from the political life of China.

Mr. Sun Fo also arrived in Hong Kong in the same ship and also proceeded to Canton. A strong guard of police officers and detectives were posted on the wharf when the Asama Maru berthed and no one was allowed to board until both Mr. Eugene Chen and Mr. Sun Fo had landed.

The interview reported below took place at the Peninsula Hotel, where Mr. Eugene Chen and Mrs. Chen and party stayed yesterday morning.

Mr. Chen was asked whether the rumour that he was proceeding to Canton in order to arrange peace between the Canton party and the Nanking Government was correct. "That is entirely false," he answered. "Contradict that in the strongest terms. Every report that comes from Nanking is false." "Are you then going to join the Canton movement?" asked our representative.

"I am," came the reply quickly.

COMPARISON WITH MUSSOLINI.

The interview then proceeded as follows:

"What is the object of that movement?" asked our representative.

"The object of that movement," said Mr. Chen, speaking slowly and deliberately, "is to destroy the personal dictatorship of Chiang Kai Shek which he has established in Nanking."

"Do you think Nanking is going to fight the movement. Do you think troops will be sent to Canton?"

"No, Chiang cannot send the troops because the army upon which this man has been relying to establish his personal dictatorship in China is not obeying him. Chiang Kai Shek knows that. Anything he may say regarding such expectations is mere propaganda to serve his own interests."

"Is there any likelihood of civil war in China?"

"The question rests entirely with Chiang Kai Shek. The Koumintang, and not only the Koumintang, but the whole nation, demands his withdrawal. They demand the withdrawal of Chiang Kai Shek from office. If he were a modern ruler he would retire without fighting, but," added Mr. Chen dramatically, "the man is mediocrally-minded and bloodthirsty is nothing to him."

"Assuming that Chiang Kai Shek retired from the Koumintang leadership," asked our representative, "who will take control?"

"China as Family Property."

"The re-constituted leadership," replied Mr. Chen. "Do you know the reason for opposing the present dictatorship?" asked Mr. Chen. "Chiang Kai Shek looks upon China as his own private and family property, and is continually pointing to Mussolini as an example to be followed. But the distinction between Mussolini and Chiang Kai Shek is this, that Mussolini has a mind that is modern, and though one may not approve of his methods of dictatorship, he is nevertheless possessed of modern mind."

"I have read criticisms of Mussolini by some of his bitterest opponents," went on Mr. Chen, "but I have never heard it said that he was governing Italy as a family property. On the contrary he is governing it as the national possession of the Italian people. Between Mussolini and Chiang Kai Shek," went on Mr. Chen, "there is a chasm of centuries. Centuries divide Mussolini and Chiang Kai Shek, in that Chiang Kai Shek is a man with medieval mind, whose conception of China is that of a private or family property. He envisages China as his own personal property rather than as a national possession of the Chinese people."

"... and, in the End Destroyed."

"The Koumintang will never tolerate such a ruler," emphasized Mr. Chen. "Whenever such a creature appears, he will be resisted and fought and in the end destroyed."

"What is the immediate programme of your party?" asked our representative.

"I cannot explain things until other people are consulted," replied Mr. Chen. "You see, Chiang Kai Shek has disrupted the Koumintang. There are now several sections such as the Nanking section, the Re-organizationist section and others, and it is difficult to say now just what will be decided upon. However, the movement is a national one, although it has been initiated in Canton. The immediate objective, as I have said, is the removal of this man who stands in the way of modern government."

"Will the new Government at Canton recognize any contract which might be concluded in the near future between Chiang Kai Shek and any other party?" asked our representative.

"That depends on the nature of the contract. One thing is certain, however. If Nanking were to issue a loan now, to finance any attempt on its part to wage civil war, such a loan would undoubtedly be repudiated."

Movement Initiated in Canton.

"Are the Northern people likely to join your movement?"

"Yes; it is a national movement. Yen Hsi Shan and Feng Yu Hsiang are likely to come in. Of course the movement was initiated in Canton."

"Would it be correct to describe your movement as a Re-organizationist movement?" asked our representative.

"No, the Re-organization movement is described by Reuters as not correct in so far as this is a movement by the Koumintang as a whole. The Koumintang in Nanking as well as the Right and the Left sections and Independents (like myself) are all in it. It is not a Left movement but a national movement because non-Koumintang movements are also included."

"If Chiang Kai Shek is agreeable that the leadership should be decided by votes from the people, what would be the attitude of your party?"

"Chiang Kai Shek," said Mr. Eugene Chen, "will be ignominiously thrown out of office if a plebiscite is taken."

Answering another question, Mr. Eugene Chen said: "Chiang Kai Shek is not a modern ruler. He does not believe in civilised ways but believes in cutting off heads. He has usurped party authority in order to establish personal dictatorship, which is Chiang Kai Shek's convention. The People's Convention, which was convened in order to legalize the personal dictatorship that he has been seeking to establish. It was made up of representatives chosen by Chiang Kai Shek. He has usurped rights which are inherent in the people."

FISHING TRAGEDY IN JAPAN.

23 PEOPLE BELIEVED DROWNED.

[THROUGH REUTERS' AGENCY.]

TOKYO, May 24.

Twenty-three fishermen were missing, and are believed drowned, after a vessel carrying thirty-one people turned turtle during a storm, forty miles from Yokohama. The rest were rescued by a passing vessel.

Dictatorship Condemned.

Mr. Eugene Chen's personal opinion on the system of dictatorship was summed up in the following words: "Some of us in the Koumintang do not believe in what is called dictatorship of the Koumintang because we see to what evil purpose men like Chiang Kai Shek can put it. They say 'I am the head of the party, therefore, I am the dictator.' We would rather devise a formula whereby we can fix a trusteeship of the nation. The Koumintang is the trustee of the nation. You can ask any person in the Koumintang whether he is working for himself or for the nation and not a man would say that he is working for himself."

Regarding the Re-organization movement referred to above, Mr. Eugene Chen explained that the "so-called Re-organizationists used to be a mere fragment of the Left Koumintang. Mr. Chen Kung Po was the man who coined the word 'Re-organizationists' but he now repudiates that such an organization exists. The Re-organizationists fragment is now a historical curiosity."

The interview concluded with the following question by our representative: "If Chiang Kai Shek does give in, will he have to leave the country?"

"That," said Mr. Eugene Chen in reply, "I am not prepared to answer."

AMATEUR GOLF TITLE.

SMITH BEATS DE FOREST.

[THROUGH REUTERS' AGENCY.]

LONDON, May 22.

At Westward Ho today, Eric Martin Smith, of Royal St. George's, won the Amateur Golf Championship, beating John de Forest, of Addington, one up, over thirty-six holes.

The Afternoon Round.

In the final round the first hole was halved in four, but de Forest lost the second, being too strong with his approach. Smith was stymied at the third, but de Forest failed with a two-foot putt and the hole was halved.

An ill-judged approach to the fourth cost de Forest the hole, Smith becoming four up. The fifth and sixth were halved, but de Forest retrieved a hole at the seven, where Smith was bunkered from his drive.

De Forest now began to fight back, and after halving the eighth in four, he holed a five-yarder to tie, but at the eleventh a birdie by de Forest enabled him to win the hole and stand only one down. De Forest was bunkered at the twelfth, which was halved in five. De Forest became all square at the thirteenth, where Smith missed a chip shot, and de Forest won the hole with four to his opponent's five.

A Magnificent Fight.

At the fourteenth de Forest was left with an eight-foot putt downhill for a half, but failed, Smith becoming one up in three, to the other's four. De Forest holed a seven-yard putt for a half, in four, at the fifteenth, and then won the sixteenth in a perfect three to square again.

Smith won the seventeenth, in five to the other's six, becoming dormie. "It was a magnificent fight, and I certainly had some frights," said Smith. "The new champion really is a great player," was de Forest's reply.

FAR EAST IN PARLIAMENT.

EXTRA-TERRITORIALITY IN CHINA.

Replying on April 27 to Captain P. MacDonald (Isle of Wight, U.), Mr. Henderson said:—The only negotiations now proceeding with the Chinese Government are concerned with extra-territoriality, but I am not at present in a position to make any further statement. If, as I hope, the negotiations are successful, they will result in a treaty, and there will, in accordance with the usual practice, be an opportunity for debate in this House before ratification.

Replying to Mr. Wardlaw-Milne, Mr. Henderson said that he was not in a position to state whether Shanghai was or was not excluded from these negotiations.

Mr. G. Locker-Lampson (Wood Green, U.) asked the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs whether, in the negotiations now progressing regarding extra-territoriality in China, the report of the Commission on extra-territoriality was being taken as the basis of the discussions.

Mr. Wardlaw-Milne (Kidderminster, U.) asked the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs whether he had received information from other foreign countries of their intention to negotiate with the Chinese Government regarding the abrogation of extra-territorial rights; if so, which Government; and how far had such negotiations progressed.

Mr. Henderson: As I informed the hon. member for Kidderminster on April 20, and again on April 22, negotiations with the Chinese Government on extra-territoriality are still proceeding, but I am not prepared at the present time to make any further statement on the instructions which have been sent to Sir Miles Lampson. The report referred to by the right hon. gentleman the member for Wood Green has, of course, been fully considered by His Majesty's Government. Negotiations on the same subject are being carried on by the representatives of the United States, Japan and France, but I am not in a position to give details.

Sir D. Herbert (Watford, U.) asked whether the proposals, when completed, would be submitted to the House.

Mr. Henderson: I said the other day that the proposals, if finally agreed upon, would be put into a treaty which, in the usual course, would come up for ratification, when the House will have the opportunity of discussing the whole matter.

Child Mortality in Hong Kong.

Mr. White (Birkenhead, L. U.) asked the Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies whether, seeing that some official information was available with regard to 1,724 out of 1,851 dead bodies of children of three years of age and less, picked up in the streets of Hong Kong during 1929, he would call for a report upon the remaining 127 dead bodies; and whether in any case death was due to violence.

Dr. Shiels, Under-Secretary for the Colonies (Edinburgh, E.), said that, of the 127 bodies, 98 were those of children over three years of age and 29 were infants of unknown sex. The Governor was requested by the Secretary for the Colonies to state whether in any of the 1,851 cases reported for the year 1929 death was due to violence, and he had replied that in no case was there found to be any evidence of violence. In 521 cases of children of three years or under, the cause of death was found to be small-pox.

COUNTY CRICKET MATCH RESULTS.

CENTURY FOR THE NAWAB OF PATAUDI: TALL SCORING AT OXFORD.

LANCASHIRE'S FINE WIN: DICK TYLDESLEY IN FORM WITH THE BALL.

County cricket was seriously interfered with by heavy rains over the week-end, Derbyshire and Sussex being among the teams who were probably deprived of comfortable wins as a result.

After their recent defeats, Lancashire "came out of her shell" and scored a fine win over Glamorgan, the hero of this match being Dick Tyldesley who captured 11 wickets in two innings, for 112 runs. Pride of place in the "batting honours list" goes to the Nawab of Pataudi this week who scored a brilliant 169 for Oxford against Gloucester.

Nawab of Pataudi (Oxford) 169
Sinfield (Gloucester).....161	Bowling.
Lee (Derby).....147	Paine (Warwick).....11 for 84

The method of scoring this year is as follows:—15 points for a win; 7½ points for a tie; 3 points for a win on the first innings and 3 points for a loss on first innings; 4 points for a tie on the first innings and 4 points for a no result.

OXFORD v. GLOUCESTER.

THE NAWAB OF PATAUDI SCORES A CENTURY.

Rapid scoring on what appeared a perfect wicket was the order of the day when these teams met at Oxford, and it was unfortunate that rain prevented any play on the third day, the game being left drawn.

The Nawab of Pataudi, the brilliant young Indian batsman from Chief's College, Lahore, who got his Blue in 1929, delighted the spectators with a masterly innings for 169 runs.

The County took first knock and thanks to a dashing innings by their "stumper," Sinfield who made 61 not out, totalled 374 runs. The Dark Blues, however, went one better and rattled up 393 for 8. With 772 runs for 18 wickets in two days, the third day's play was very much looked-forward to but rain interfered, the scores standing at:—

Gloucester, 1st innings.....374	Sinfield, 61 not out.
Oxford, 1st innings (for 8 wickets).....393	Nawab of Pataudi, 169.

ESSEX v. DERBY.

RAIN SAVES ESSEX.

Rain saved Essex from what appeared inevitable defeat by Derby when these teams met at Leyton. Essex were in a sorry plight, and being 243 runs behind in the first innings were forced to "follow-on." They were one wicket down for 5 runs in the second innings when rain interfered.

Derby battled first and with Smith (131) and Lee (147) in great form with the bat, compiled 435 for 8 when the innings was declared closed.

Essex replied with 187 runs and forced to follow on, they had 6 for 1 when play ceased on account of rain.

The scores were:—
Derby, 1st innings (8 wks. dec.).....435
Smith, 131; Lee, 147.
Essex, 1st innings.....187
Essex, 2nd innings (for 1 wicket).....6

GLAMORGAN v. LANCs.

LANCS SCORE GOOD WIN.

After two defeats recently, Lancashire, last year's champion county, came into her own again and beat Glamorgan at Swansea by the comfortable margin of 240 runs. Dick Tyldesley was again in good form with the ball, taking 11 wickets in two innings for 135 runs.

In their second effort Lancs. got 307 for 6, declared, and set with the task of getting 417 to win. Glamorgan failed and were all out for 170, Tyldesley returning the analysis of 7 for 70.

The scores were:—
Lancs., 1st innings.....247	Glamorgan, 1st innings.....138
Tyldesley, 4 for 30.
Lancs., 2nd innings (6 wks. dec.).....307	Glamorgan, 2nd innings.....170
Tyldesley, 7 for 70.

CAMBRIDGE v. WARWICK.

GOOD BOWLING BY PAINE.

At Cambridge, the University were beaten by Warwick by 109 runs.

Warwick batted first and compiled 209 runs to which the Light Blues replied with 153, Paine taking 7 wickets for 37 runs.

In their second venture the county declared at 172 for the loss of 7 wickets. Cambridge could only muster 117 this time. Paine again bowling well to get 4 for 47.

The scores were:—
Warwick, 1st innings.....209
Cambridge, 1st innings.....153
Paine, 7 for 37.

Warwick, 2nd innings (7 wks. dec.).....172
Cambridge, 2nd innings.....117
Paine, 4 for 47.

MIDDLESEX v. LEICESTER.

NARROW WIN FOR MIDDLESEX.

At Lords, Middlesex beat Leicester on the first innings by the margin of 17 runs.

Middlesex batted first and made 267 to see Leicester reply with 250. Going in for the second time Middlesex were fighting with their backs to the wall, their score standing at 142 for 8 when play ceased.

The scores were:—
Middlesex, 1st innings.....267
Leicester, 1st innings.....250
Middlesex, 2nd innings (for 8 wickets).....142

POLICE CAR OVERTURNS.

TWO-MILES CHASE THROUGH SILENT LONDON STREETS.

A police motor-car overturned while taking a corner at high speed in a chase after motor bandits in Guildford-lane, Ilford, Essex. A sergeant and three constables were injured.

It was shortly after 2 a.m. that a message reached Ilford police-station that bandits had raided an outfitting shop in Victory-parade. Sergeant Dade, with Constables Anstead, Beckworth and Palmer, at once set out in a car and picked up the trail of the fleeing bandits.

The bandits, seeing the police car behind them, backed their car into a lane, waited till the police had passed, then set off at full speed in the opposite direction. The police car stopped and turned round. Then began a thrilling chase through the empty streets, until after covering two miles, the police car drew alongside the bandit car at the junction of Ilford-road and Hampton-road.

Hurled on to the Road.

As both cars were speeding round the corner a wheel of the police car struck the kerb, the car overturned, and the four occupants were hurled on to the road. The bandit car drove on.

Constable Palmer was slightly injured on one leg, and Constable Anstead on the neck. Constable Beckworth was injured on the left side and shoulder.

Money and Markets

BRITISH ECONOMIC MISSION TO EAST.

MANCHESTER AND SIR E. THOMPSON.

A gathering of Press representatives at the Department of Overseas Trade on April 15 was addressed by Mr. Gillett, M.P., and Sir Ernest Thompson on the results of the Cotton Mission to the Far East.

Sir Ernest Thompson said the point that Lancashire was faced with the greatest crisis in her history. Recovery of Britain's cotton exports was a vital necessity for the nation as a whole. The Mission were agreed that costs of production must be reduced, and that marketing methods must be improved. It would be useless to attempt the former without perfecting their marketing organisation, for the two factors were interdependent. Both, he was convinced, were possible, and both would, he was equally convinced, be effected in due course. For some time investigations had been made into conditions in the cotton industry, and the results indicated that reorganisation must take place. Proposals were under consideration in Lancashire for more efficient reorganisation of production. He trusted that the Mission's proposals would be welcomed, and carried into effect simultaneously with any scheme of reorganisation that was adopted. He had very good reasons to hope that all would co-operate, and that before long a concerted policy would be agreed upon that would lead to better times for the cotton trade.

Manchester Views.

In Manchester the report had a mixed reception.

Mr. W. Maxwell Reekie, chairman of the China Section of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce, said the report confirmed up to the hilt every word that the China exporting houses had been telling the trade for the past ten years. The most perfect distributing system devisable cannot sell goods when they are non-competitive in price. The report tacitly admits that the policy of the trade unions will have to be overhauled. Three distinguished leaders of the operatives have signed the report. His greatest hope lay in what these three representatives report to their respective organisations and the response.

Mr. John H. Grey, chairman of the Executive of the Joint Committee of Cotton Trade Organisations, said: "There are undoubtedly great opportunities in the report for every section to point out something which each section, except itself, ought to do. If we get the spirit of co-operation then there are great hopes that something effective will be done."

Sir Edward Rhodes, chairman of the Shipping Merchants' Committee, said he failed to see how the setting up of a company at home to control the export of cotton goods to China was going to make it possible to sell our goods at cheaper rates than now.

Mr. H. Boothman, secretary of the Operative Spinners' Amalgamation, said: The textile workers may meet to discuss the recommendations. If something has to be done, naturally we must all get together and do it.

Mr. F. W. Birchenough, president of the Operative Spinners' Amalgamation (a member of the Mission) said: It is too early to express any opinion as to what the operatives will do. What we want to know is what other folks think about the matter.

Mr. J. Tertius Spencer, the Burnley manufacturer whose recent attempts to run the eight-loom system failed owing to the Weavers' Amalgamation, said: We don't want the weavers to expend any more units of energy per hour than they do now on four ordinary Lancashire looms, but if conditions can be so arranged that they can run eight or ten looms with only the same expenditure of energy, they should be allowed to do so. If that were permitted, operatives would be able to earn much higher weekly wages than at present.

METAL MARKETS.

INFLUENCE BY GENERAL DEPRESSION.

The following Review of the Metal Markets, dated May 1, has been issued by Messrs Rudolf Wolff and Co., London:—

Markets have all come under the influence of the general depression and although the Budget does not offer any particular hardships, there is nothing to engender any optimistic outlook.

Tin.

This market, in spite of support, has ceased off through being subjected to heavy selling and liquidations. The figures published to-day, although showing an increase of only 352 tons in the Total Visible Supply, are unsatisfactory as the Carry-Over in the Straits is as high as 9471 tons. To-day, the market opened excitedly with heavy selling and a new level was reached of £105.—three months, equivalent to £103.12.6 Cash, this being the lowest since 1899. The low values attracted a number of buyers and the market then recovered until the close when £106.17.6 was paid for three months. The future is uncertain, but after the heavy fall which we have recently experienced some little recovery is to be expected. The East has sold 1580 tons during the week.

Copper.

The week opened with sales in anticipation of lower prices in America. It was also stated that liquidations were being effected through recent failures in New York. The market recovered slightly afterwards but the price of Electrolytic having been again lowered, values were easier to-day. Standard selling down to £21.5.0 for forward, equal to £20.12.6 Cash, which is the lowest since 1899. There was however a recovery afterwards to £21.11.3, but as it is anticipated that the statistics for April will not be favourable, we may look for still lower prices.

Turnover for the week 8850 tons.

Lead.

Lead was firmer at the beginning of the week but prices after giving way a little recovered again to-day closing, however, with a slightly easier tone. In view of the heavy shipments and arrivals and an indifferent trade demand, values may recede a little further. Turnover for the week 4250 tons.

Spelter.

In face of general trade depression, especially in the galvanizing industry and the continued lowering of the price in New York, our market has given way and a record low level was reached yesterday, May Spelter selling down to £10.8.6. There was a slight rally to-day to £10.12.6 for near and £11.3.0 for forward. A considerable quantity of spelter has been declared for May delivery from Tasmania, Canada, the Continent and the Gulf ports, and although spelter is at such a low level, the outlook generally does not inspire confidence and it is not improbable that we shall break new records. The price in America has fallen consistently from 3.5 cents to 3.35 cents.

Mr. J. Harold Rodier, a member of the Executive Committee of the China and Far East Section of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce, said: "It seems obvious that it is essential to reduce the costs of spinning, weaving, and finishing, but as an adequate reduction of wages would not be agreed to in England we cannot look forward to regaining any great proportion of our lost trade, and we shall have to be content with what Eastern mills cannot make. No scheme of rationalisation will effect the necessary reductions. As regards the scheme for holding stocks in China of bulk lines, how can this be feasible unless the primary costs are adjusted to a connecting point with the market values?"

AMERICAN IMPORTS.

TARIFF TROUBLES.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

New York, May 23.

A survey undertaken by the Tariff Commission at the request of the State Department indicates nearly seven hundred million dollars of imports into the United States.

Many were affected by the exclusion of products of forced or indentured labour under the provision of the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Act which was effective on January 1.

According to the New York Herald Tribune, the Commission has studied labour conditions all over the world and an effort has been made to list every possible commodity includable in a sweeping ban.

Rubber imports from Malaya, which totalled 138 million dollars in 1928, may be excluded in accordance with the Treasury Department's interpretation of the law, because Malaya is reported to employ and contract labour with penal sanction.

Similar imports from Java and other of the East Indies islands are also listed as possibly affected. The Tariff Commission further announces an experiment with this system doubtless to involve serious administrative difficulties, and international complications.

SUEZ CANAL DUES.

GOVERNMENT UNABLE TO ASSIST.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

Rugby, May 22.

The House of Commons adjourned to-day for the Whitetide recess. The sessions will be resumed on June 2.

Questions raised on the motion for the adjournment included one regarding Suez Canal dues.

Replying to a suggestion that the Government should, through the English directors, press for a revision of the high transit charges against which the Foreign Secretary had received protests from six maritime Powers of Europe, Mr. W. R. Smith stated that the Government had no direct voice in the Company's Administration, and had no authority to demand what might be desirable in the interest of the shipowners and commerce generally.

Within the limits of their powers and opportunities the Government had done everything possible to help in the direction suggested.

INTERNATIONAL WHEAT CONFERENCE.

COMMITTEE FORMED TO SUBMIT PROPOSALS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, May 23.

The final plenary session of the International Wheat Conference to-day decided to appoint a committee to submit a proposal to establish a clearing house for information to explore avenues of the greater utilisation of wheat, and further to make preparations to carry on the aims of the Conference.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.

LARGE SALES OF RUSSIAN STAPLE.

Liverpool, May 19.—In the spot raw cotton market during the past week a fair business has been done, but most descriptions show a decline in price.

The futures market has ruled very quiet. The reduction of the bankrate was welcomed, but has had no appreciable effect in this market. A bearish feeling generally has continued throughout the week which was aggravated by large sales of Russian cotton. The market for Egyptian cotton has ruled idle and prices went weaker, mainly owing to Continental selling.

U.S. TRADE ON UP-GRADE.

SLOW IMPROVEMENT REPORTED.

New York.—President Hoover is reported to be greatly cheered to-day by the statements of eminent American business analysts, who report that trade is slowly on the upgrade. Mr. Robert Babson, the best known American statistician, who predicted the stock market crash in 1929, is quoted to-day as informing the President that business has definitely turned the corner.
